COOLIDGE MAY SOOTHE ITS FEVERED BROW

PRESIDENT FACED WITH ULTIMATUM YESTERDAY

MITCHELL SEEMS TO BE THE STORMY PETREL IN AIR

(By United Press)
Washington, Feb. 19.—President Coolidge today was expected to place a cool hand on the feverish brow of the aircraft rumpus in Washington. Entrance of the executive into the melee appeared unavoidable in view of reports circulated from the house aircraft committee that Mr. Coolidge was faced with this ultimatum late yesterday:

"Brigadier General Billie Mitchell, assistant chief of the air service, must either resign, accept demotion, or Secretaries Wilbur and Weeks will step out of the cabinet."

The issue—whether or not there shall be an independent air service—was represented as near the explosion point with Weeks and Wilbur ranged in great indignation on the one side against the fighting air service leader on the other.

Mr. Coolidge, according to announcement alleged to have been made in the secret session of the aircraft committee, was to summon Mitchell to the White House today and give him the choice of resigning or accepting demotion. There was a great stir, with no confirmation of the report procurable from Weeks, Wilbur or the White House.

So official Washington, which has as a large portion of its membership officers of the army and navy, ranged around one side or the other over the controversy—waiting for President Coolidge to act.

There was speculation on whether the president would not call off the engagement with Mitchell if it had been made because of premature publicity.

With nothing more definite than the reports, there was a rush of sympathy last night to Mitchell, and members of congress did not hesitate to denounce such an arbitrary course as was reported planned by the president. Representative Prall, New York, in a statement today, declared Mitchell was to be "punished for telling the truth."

MITCHELL SUBPOENAED BY HOUSE COMMITTEE

Washington, Feb. 19.—Brigadier General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the air service, was suddenly subpoenaed today to appear before the house aircraft investigating committee. No explanation of the summons was given.

MITCHELL SAYS HE WAS NOT SUMMONED

Washington, Feb. 19.—Brigadier General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the air service, today told the house aircraft investigating committee that he had not been summoned to the White House by President Coolidge as reported.

Thereupon Representative Perkins, New Jersey republican, chairman of the investigating committee, assumed full responsibility for the circulation of the report that Mitchell had been called to the White House, to be offered the choice of resignation or demotion, declaring he had been given the information by an "authority that always has been good."

Perkins said he did not doubt the authenticity of the information and therefore gave it to the press.

The White House today continued to refuse to either affirm or deny that a summons to Mitchell had been issued or was being contemplated.

Mitchell, while on the stand revealed that General Patrick, chief of the air service, had recommended his re-appointment as chief after March 26.

The committee decided to subpoena Secretary of War Weeks after examining a press release that was given out at the war department yesterday stating that the United States had 1,200 serviceable planes, to ask

MONETARY HEART BALM IS DESIRED BY THE NOBILITY

(By United Press)
London, Feb. 19.—Desire for monetary heart balm, an emotion often attributed to the chorus, has invaded the British nobility.

Adelaide Margaret Constance Lubbock, granddaughter of the fourteenth Earl of Engleton, is the plaintiff, and Frank Griswold Williams the defendant. Adelaide alleges the wealthy 51-year-old bachelor, who is 19 years her senior, refused to wed her after going so far as to buy the ring.

RADIO SETS IN SCHOOLS TO HEAR INAUGURAL TALK

OTHER SCHOOLS IN NORTHWEST EXPECTED TO TAKE SIMILAR ACTION

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Feb. 19.—Radio receiving sets will be installed in every one of the 101 public schools in Minneapolis so that the pupils may listen in on the inauguration of President Coolidge March 4. Classes will be suspended for two hours during the broadcasting period, W. F. Webster, superintendent of schools, announced.

The Twin Cities station, WCCO, will broadcast the inaugural in company with most of the large stations in the country. An appeal was made today to the public to supply each class with loud speaker receivers for the ceremonies. Other schools throughout the Northwest are expected to take similar action.

him "where the planes are." Perkins asked each member of the committee if he did not believe the Weeks' statement to be a "misrepresentation." Each member of the committee agreed it so appeared and the committee voted to subpoena Weeks.

Mitchell will continue on the stand this afternoon, the committee's action in holding him being taken as an indication it was going to do everything possible to prevent him going to the White House.

Representative Laguardia, New York progressive and former world war aviator, announced that he would introduce today a resolution preventing officers of the army and navy from being demoted for testimony before congressional committees.

Laguardia said he would introduce the resolution in face of reports that Mitchell was to be deprived of his rank.

NAVY TO RELY ON ARMOR AND GUNS

Washington, Feb. 19.—The American navy will continue to rely on steel armor and huge guns of its giant battleships as the basic element in the nation's sea defense, with aircraft purely auxiliary.

This fundamental navy policy was announced by President Coolidge today when he approved the special report of the navy general board on the relative combat values of battleships, aircraft and submarines.

After an exclusive investigation the board in its report assured the president the battleship is still the backbone of seapower and that aircraft and submarines, at best, are only supremely valuable auxiliaries.

STUDENT KILLS HIMSELF OVER A LOVE AFFAIR

BODY OF JOHN MINAHAN, JR. OF GREEN BAY, IDENTIFIED BY FATHER

BOY WAS STUDENT AT NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY, NEAR CHICAGO

(By United Press)
Chicago, Feb. 19.—Somewhere in the student body of Northwestern University here authorities today hoped to find a co-ed and young man who, they believe, can throw some light on the death of John Minahan, Jr., who committed suicide in Milwaukee as the climax of disappointment in love.

Young Minahan's body was identified by his father, John R. Minahan, prominent physician of Green Bay, Wis., who hastened to Milwaukee when he heard: "an unidentified youth" had been found dead.

The boy, who had been a student in the medical department of Northwestern University, a few days earlier had written a note to his father declaring:

"I'm tired of life and I'm going to kill myself. However, I will come home and talk with you first." The youth committed suicide Monday night without fulfilling his promise to his father to talk things over with him.

In young Minahan's possessions was found the following note:

"I might as well tell you now as later that everything is over as far as you and I are concerned."

"I don't love you, and never did. Buddy Hill and I will be married by the time you receive this, so there is nothing you can do. Goodbye, Louise."

Although friends of young Minahan at the University said they had never heard of Louise and Buddy Hill, authorities believe they may be students.

The death of young Minahan marks the third apparent suicide in the family. An older brother shot and killed himself two years ago while studying at the University of Chicago. The coroner's jury, however, found the tragedy "accidental." The boy's mother committed suicide several years ago, throwing her body in the path of a railroad locomotive.

St. Paul, Feb. 19.—Loans of the state rural credit bureau on farms of disabled veterans at Argonne Farms, south of Minneapolis, were under fire by the legislative investigating committee at the capitol today.

The joint committee probing into the activities of the bureau went into a session this afternoon which was expected to reveal startling facts.

In the report of Garfield W. Brown, state public examiner, it was revealed recently that more than $60,000 had been loaned to members of the veterans' colony on what was termed questionable security.

MOTORIST WANDERS ON STREETS HOURS AFTER BEING HURT

St. Paul, Feb. 19.—For six hours last night, after an automobile accident at University ave. and Mackubin st., J. A. Schmitz, 99 Clarence ave., Minneapolis, wandered St. Paul streets aimlessly.

A severe blow on the head had given him concussion of the brain. Mr. Schmitz collided with a car owned by Ivan Gimbal, 483 University ave. The Gimbal car was parked at the curb.

Blood on the cushions of Mr. Schmitz' car gave evidence of injuries to the driver, but police found no trace of him until he walked into Rondo police substation, at Rondo st. and Western ave., at 12:10 a. m. and asked aid in finding his car.

His wounds were dressed and he was sent home in a taxicab.

CHRISTIANSON'S TAX REDUCTION PROGRAM WINS

TWO HOUR BATTLE WAGED IN THE SENATE TODAY

OVER PROPOSED COUNTY HIGHWAY BOND REIMBURSEMENT BILL

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Feb. 19.—Governor Theodore Christianson's tax reduction program won out in a two-hour senate battle today over the proposed county highway bond reimbursement bill.

By a vote of 40 to 21 the senate blocked attempts to railroad the bill through as recommended by the Senate highway committee yesterday. In so doing the senate followed a minority report of the highway committee prepared by Senators Lee, Thoe, Serline and Gillum.

The proposed measure as recommended by the majority report of the highway committee would authorize the state to issue from year to year bonds to retire road bonds issued by the counties and guaranteed by the state—$33,000,000 of which are coming due during the next 10 years.

INHERITANCE TAXES ARE HIGH, SAYS COOLIDGE

BOTH STATE AND FEDERAL, SAID HE, VERGE ON CONFISCATION

ADDRESSES NATIONAL TAX ASSOCIATION CONFERENCE

(By United Press)
Washington, Feb. 19.—President Coolidge today condemned present high inheritance taxes, both state and federal, as verging on socialism and confiscation.

In a speech made to the National Tax Association conference on inheritance taxes here he advocated reduction and restriction of state inheritance taxes and gradual withdrawal of the federal government from this form of levy.

"We have come to the point where state and federal inheritance taxes reach up as high as 40 per cent of the actual value and perhaps higher in some states, where the total burden closely approaches, if it does not actually confiscate," declared the president. "I do not believe that the government should seek socialistic legislation in the guise of taxation. We should approach the questions directly where the arguments for and against the proposed legislation may be clearly presented and universally understood."

"If we adopt socialism we should present it to the country as socialism and not under the guise of a law to collect revenue. The people are quite able to determine for themselves the desirability of a particular public policy and do not have to have such policies forced upon them by indirection."

"Personally, I do not feel that large fortunes, properly managed, are necessarily a menace to our institutions and therefore ought to be destroyed. On the contrary, they have been and can be of great value for our development."

The president said the present system of state and federal inheritance taxation has developed to the point where the tax frequently exceeds the estate. He criticized conflicting taxes claims of various states, which he said resulted in the payer being taxed in half a dozen different states as well as by the federal government.

"The effect of these excessive taxes are two-fold," he said. "First, they tend to lower values throughout the country by rushing and forcing upon the market securities which cannot be readily absorbed. Secondly, they take away the inspiration to work in order to build up a business or create property."

"The burden of taxation is one from which relief must be found. It touches directly and indirectly on all our citizens."

"When on June 2 last I signed the revenue act of 1924 I adverted briefly to the subject of inheritance taxes. By that act the highest bracket of the federal estate tax was raised from 25c to 40c. I pointed out then that when the inheritance taxes levied by the state be added to this, a substantial confiscation of capital may result; and I suggested the danger of having the states and federal government combine to get the utmost possible revenue from the taxpayer."

"To take excessive portions of estates in this way for the cost of government can only mean that the government will be living off the capital of the community. Therefore, I suggest that the levying of inheritance taxes be left to the states."

"The first factor in the practice of economy in inheritance tax collection lies in state co-operation. There is competition between the states, who urged the levying of inheritance taxes not only upon its citizens but the property of citizens of other states, bringing both within the grasp of the tax gatherer."

RAILROADS AND BUS LINES IN FIGHT RENEWAL

BUS SIDE OF STORY HEARD BY HOUSE COMMITTEE

PRES. ZELLE, OF STATE MOTOR BUS ASSOCIATION, IS HEARD

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Feb. 19.—Railroads and bus lines renewed their legislative fight today.

The bus side of the controversy was heard before the railroads and transportation committee of the house.

The principal speaker was Edgar S. Zelle, Minneapolis, president of the Minnesota Motor Bus association, who charged that Alex James, associate counsel of the Great Northern, had withheld important facts from the committee in presenting the railroads' view at a previous hearing.

He credited James with giving a "clever portrayal of the situation and developing a psychological situation favoring the railroads."

At the close of Zelle's arguments sentiment among committee members appeared more pronounced than ever to discard both bills now pending one favored by the railroads and one by the bus companies, and substitute a committee bill which would be fair to both.

Zelle cited 15 instances in which he said James had withheld statistics from the committee, all of which he said are familiar to anyone in the railroad business.

Capt. Dunn was known to have worried about his parents' suffering. Brooding unbalanced his mind, police believe. One note left by Dunn read: "I am doing this for their own good and I am willing to sacrifice my own life for them."

Dunn was a graduate of West Point and served in the World War.

GREAT BRITAIN, JAPAN HAVE GIVEN ASSENT

AMBASSADOR HERRICK AND THE FRENCH PREMIER IN DISCUSSIONS

NO EUROPEAN CONFERENCE STANDS IN WAY OF WASHINGTON CONFERENCE

(By United Press)
Washington, Feb. 19.—President Coolidge will issue invitations for the second arms conference as soon as the support of the French government is assured, Great Britain and Japan having already given informal expressions of approval.

Although France blocked limitation of auxiliary naval craft in the first Washington conference, which is the primary object of the proposed conference, informal discussions now in process between Ambassador Herrick and Premier Herriot in Paris gave hope in official circles here today.

France may withhold definite acceptance, it is believed, until the League of Nations arms conference which she sponsored is indefinitely postponed. This probably will be done at the request of the British delegates at the coming League council meeting.

The British will ask that discussions be put off until the September meeting of the League assembly.

Since the League protocol provides for an arms conference only if the powers have ratified the protocol before June, and as France is the only power that has ratified, it is understood here no European conference will stand in the way of the Washington meeting. Germany may not be invited to the Washington conference, because she is not a sea power. An added reason for this will be the hostility of France to the inclusion of Germany.

Russia will not be invited unless conference agenda is extended to include Far East problems and unless Russia meanwhile has been recognized by the United States. The president is expected to appoint early in the new administration a commission to talk with the Russians which presumably will lead to eventual, rather than immediate recognition.

A high state department official said today that only naval subjects had been talked over with interested powers so far.

PRES. ZELLE, OF STATE MOTOR BUS ASSOCIATION, IS HEARD

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Feb. 19.—Railroads and bus lines renewed their legislative fight today.

The bus side of the controversy was heard before the railroads and transportation committee of the house.

The principal speaker was Edgar S. Zelle, Minneapolis, president of the Minnesota Motor Bus association, who charged that Alex James, associate counsel of the Great Northern, had withheld important facts from the committee in presenting the railroads' view at a previous hearing.

He credited James with giving a "clever portrayal of the situation and developing a psychological situation favoring the railroads."

At the close of Zelle's arguments sentiment among committee members appeared more pronounced than ever to discard both bills now pending one favored by the railroads and one by the bus companies, and substitute a committee bill which would be fair to both.

Zelle cited 15 instances in which he said James had withheld statistics from the committee, all of which he said are familiar to anyone in the railroad business.

POLICE ASCRIBE IT AS CAUSE OF IOWA MAN KILLING PAR-ENTS AND SELF

(By United Press)
Cresco, Iowa, Feb. 19.—Temporary insanity, police believed, today drove Capt. William Dunn, 40, to kill his semi-invalid parents and take his own life. The triple tragedy occurred at the Dunn home late yesterday.

Capt. Dunn was known to have worried about his parents' suffering. Brooding unbalanced his mind, police believe. One note left by Dunn read: "I am doing this for their own good and I am willing to sacrifice my own life for them."

Dunn was a graduate of West Point and served in the World War.

St. Paul, Feb. 19.—Governor Theodore Christianson today agreed to expedite the extradition to Milwaukee of Jack Peiffer and J. B. GREAT BRITAIN, JAPAN HAVE GIVEN ASSENT

AMBASSADOR HERRICK AND THE FRENCH PREMIER IN DISCUSSIONS

NO EUROPEAN CONFERENCE STANDS IN WAY OF WASHINGTON CONFERENCE

(By United Press)
Washington, Feb. 19.—President Coolidge will issue invitations for the second arms conference as soon as the support of the French government is assured, Great Britain and Japan having already given informal expressions of approval.

Although France blocked limitation of auxiliary naval craft in the first Washington conference, which is the primary object of the proposed conference, informal discussions now in process between Ambassador Herrick and Premier Herriot in Paris gave hope in official circles here today.

France may withhold definite acceptance; it is believed, until the League of Nations arms conference which she sponsored is indefinitely postponed. This probably will be done at the request of the British delegates at the coming League council meeting.

The British will ask that discussions be put off until the September meeting of the League assembly.

Since the League protocol provides for an arms conference only if the powers have ratified the protocol before June, and as France is the only power that has ratified, it is understood here no European conference will stand in the way of the Washington meeting. Germany may not be invited to the Washington conference, because she is not a sea power. An added reason for this will be the hostility of France to the inclusion of Germany.

Russia will not be invited unless conference agenda is extended to include Far East problems and unless Russia meanwhile has been recognized by the United States. The president is expected to appoint early in the new administration a commission to talk with the Russians which presumably will lead to eventual, rather than immediate recognition.

A high state department official said today that only naval subjects had been talked over with interested powers so far.

"MINSTREL MIMICS" STAGED BY LIONS

To be Presented Tuesday And Wednesday After Easter, April 14 and 15

PRODUCTION IN 4 SECTIONS

Requires Cast of About 60 People With Unique Costuming

The "Minstrel Mimics" is the name of the home talent production to be staged on the Tuesday and Wednesday after Easter, April 14th and 15th, under the auspices of the Brainerd Lions Club.

A representative of the John B. Rogers Producing Company met with a committee from the club on Wednesday evening and made all preliminary arrangements for the staging of this big production, one of the most elaborate of the 200 plays controlled by the company.

The production is divided into four sections, and requires a cast of about sixty people. The costuming is unique, and the lines very catchy. There is, of course, a large number of musical selections, which will include many of the latest popular numbers.

The first section is a mixed minstrel show, which with the chorus, requires thirty people. This is not to be confused with the old "slapstick" variety of minstrel, but is of the highest type, very elaborately staged. It has proven very popular where ever it has been produced.

The second section is characterized as a scorchingly funny musical farce, entitled, "The Isle of Never Known." The setting for this musical comedy is in the South Sea Islands. The cast requires ten principals and a chorus of twenty-five.

The third and fourth sections are shorter, and will be in the nature of a surprise. The last section is cast entirely of young ladies.

This production is concluding a three-day run in Minneapolis today, being staged by the Knights of Columbus of that city at the Metropolitan theatre, and that organization is said to feel that the show is the biggest and best of any home talent production it has attempted.

The John B. Rogers Producing Company is no stranger in Brainerd. It has most successfully staged the last three home talent musical comedies for the local Elks, including "Kathleen," which is remembered as one of the outstanding productions of the past three or four years.

The director who will be in charge of the "Minstrel Mimics" has had many years experience with this class of entertainment, working under the management of this company, and is said to be exceptionally successful in working up minstrel productions. The Lions club of Albany, Iowa, has put on a minstrel show three seasons in succession, always with the provision that this director be furnished, and in one instance, in order to secure him, the club was obliged to pay his expenses from the New England states, to which territory he had been assigned.

The Brainerd Lions Club is staging the "Minstrel Mimics" with the idea of using the proceeds for com-

WOMEN SHOULD DO THE PROPOSING, SAYS MINISTER

(By United Press) Chicago, Feb. 19.—A male charm school with weekly marriage classes devoted to the study of love, courtship and wedded bliss, is the latest addition to the night course curriculum of the Chicago Y. M. C. A.

The enrollment numbers upwards of a hundred marriage candidates, ranging from flaming youth to bald-pated middle-age. Dr. John H. Williams, Chicago pastor, is in charge of the matrimonial felicity class.

It is up to the ladies to do the proposing, Dr. Williams believes. He thinks men are becoming too dull and selfish to be sufficiently alluring during courtship.

"The man is usually so callous and impersonal during courtship that the girl wonders what he'll be after marriage," the pastor declared in one of his lectures. "Women are not to be blamed if they are afraid to take the risk of marriage."

The pastor scored the feminist movement for implanting false ideals in the present generation.

"We are getting soft in this country, both men and women," he asserted. "That is why so many are afraid to get married."

He lauded marriage as "the economic, social, intellectual, and religious union that brings the greatest possible happiness to the human race."

The philosophy of love, heredity, birth control, eugenics, and sex questions are included in the Y. M. C. A. marriage course which runs six weeks.

Added strength was given the Salvation Army "Heart Fund" campaign on Wednesday when ten members of the Rotary Club was appointed to help the campaign forces in reaching the $3,000 objective.

The Rotary "Heart Fund" committee are: J. P. Anderson, Clyde E. Parker, O. A. Peterson, Chris Erickson, Ralph Hallquist, Frank Johnson, Levi Johnson, Joseph Cibazar, W. C. Cobb, and William Haydon.

Enthusiasm over the coming campaign and co-operation by the business men and club women throughout the county was personified Wednesday at the readiness with which those asked volunteered their services to aid the forces.

Other civic clubs and fraternities are being asked to participate in making a complete and representative organization, and are to report their committees within the next day or two.

"Big Gifts" Committee

The city has been divided into districts at campaign headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce and all of the city's specially able givers have been listed for special attention. The plan decided on by the advisory board is to have many workers and many districts rather than few workers and few districts so that those who offer their services will not be required to work for a long period of time.

"The response for workers is coming along nicely, although many more are still needed," said Norman A. Borgen, representing the Salvation Army, this morning. "All who feel they can spare a little time—no matter how much—please call campaign headquarters phone 234-J."

S. A. Needs Urgent

"All of the $2,000 which was raised in last year's campaign has been spent during the past twelve months in beneficent work throughout the county," stated John C. Kelly, Captain and officer in charge of the local corps.

"Homes of the poor have been reached, unemployed have been found work, friendless girls have been sheltered and protected, despairing men have found a way out of their difficulties through the medium of the Salvation Army. Many have been cheered and comforted."

Legion Auxiliary Sponsors Ironton
The Auxiliary of the American Legion in Ironton, headed by the President, Mrs. Wescott has taken complete charge of the Salvation Army campaign in that city.

Their decision to take charge of the campaign was made at a meeting on Tuesday evening, and twenty of the ladies have been obtained to take districts to cover all mines, business and residence places in Ironton.

"In the absence of Hon. E. P. Scallon, representative in the Salvation Army advisory board for the Cuyuna Range, it is felt that it is especially fortunate for the Salvation Army to get such a group of active ladies to take charge of the effort in Ironton," said Dr. A. K. Cohen, general chairman of the board this morning.

The city of Crosby has been thoroughly organized, also, for the effort. Six teams of business men have been organized to take charge of the down town district in Crosby, as follows: (A) Mr. Merrick, (B) R. R. Cleary, (C) Henry Thelin and Earl Lovdahl, (D) Ray Butts, (E) John A. Bakkela, (F) A. Humble.

Ray Butts of the First National Bank in Crosby is treasurer.

The up town and outlying districts will be handled by a special auto squad on Wednesday.

Schools Take Charge Tags
The Crosby-Ironton High School, through courtesy of Superintendent Mr. Perkins and Principal Mr. Lofferdahl, have sponsored a combined Crosby-Ironton, city-wide "Doughnut Day" on Saturday, February 28.

Twenty-five high school girls will take charge of the effort of selling tags which are replicas of Doughnuts through the cities on that day.

Norman A. Borgen, campaign director, will start the girls off on Saturday morning from the High School building, giving them doughnut tags, banners and sealed boxes as implements with which to collect voluntary contributions.

The entire county, including all towns and townships outside of Brainerd are solidly organized.

U. C. T. GRAND BALL SATURDAY

Commercial Travelers of City Have Invitation Dance and Large Attendance Expected

MANY FROM OUT OF TOWN

Hedstrom's Ten Piece Orchestra Will Furnish Music for the Occasion

Invitations printed early last week have been sent out by the United Commercial Travelers of America Council No. 545 and recipients are invited to attend a ball given in Gardner hall, Saturday evening, February 21. The music will be a special feature, G. F. (Sweedie) Hedstrom having supplied an orchestra, which for that evening will be enlarged to ten pieces and named the Hedstrom U. C. T. orchestra. Mr. Hedstrom is an enthusiastic U. C. T. man and has thus shown his regard for the order in a most substantial manner.

In addition to being a "1925 Prosperity Party," the dance marks the lifting of the ban by the Musicians union on Gardner hall.

In other towns, said Senior Counselor Charles W. Gustafson, where the U. C. T. holds a dance, all taxis are engaged two weeks in advance. Saturday is the only day the salesmen of Brainerd council, and they number over fifty, are at home and therefore it is incumbent to hold their dances on Saturday nights.

No one will be allowed to enter the hall without presenting their invitation at the door and every invitation has the holder's name on it and the whole event is really in the nature of a private party.

The holder of the invitation may invite one couple to pass in on his invitation. There will be a contribution cost of $1 per couple as no tickets are being sold.

50 NOW CHARTER MEMBERSHIP

Brainerd Chapter of Izaak Walton League Makes Enthusiastic Start

A CONSERVATION AGENCY

Membership May Increase as Privileges of Charter Participation Open Until Charter Comes

The charter membership in the Brainerd chapter of the Izaak Walton League of America has been increased to 50, it was learned at the meeting of the local committee in charge of the organization of the branch in this city on Tuesday evening. Application has been made to the state headquarters for this chapter, and until it is received the charter membership privilege will be held open.

The committee responsible for sponsoring the movement in Brainerd and vicinity feels very much repaid for its efforts, since the interest in organizing a chapter here is greater than had even been anticipated.

According to F. H. Doellner, of Winona, state secretary, the Izaak Walton League has become one of the dominant conservation agencies in Minnesota, and is spreading rapidly to all parts of the state. New chapters have been organized recently at Clearbrook, Zumbrota, Stillwater, Blackduck, Remer, Alexandria, Moose Lake, Willmar and Bagley.

Mr. Doellner states that there is now before the legislature a bill to authorize Congress to purchase bottom lands along the Mississippi river; below Lake Pepin to the Iowa line and is a part of the League's work in having designated three hundred miles of river bottom as the Upper Mississippi wild life and fish refuge.

This gives a partial idea of the local and national influence and activity of the League with which the Brainerd chapter will be affiliated.

The Minnesota division is especially active just at present in a united effort to safeguard the great outdoor wealth that is the state's gold mine.

Another important meeting of the local organization committee will be held on Saturday evening, after which it is expected that it will have an announcement of interest to make to Brainerd citizens.

"THREE WISE FOOLS"

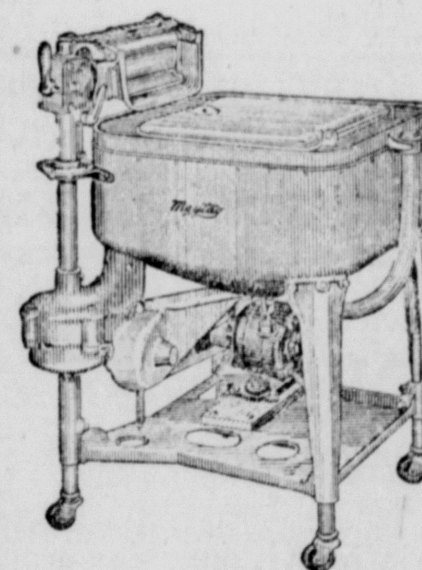

Hamline University Players Present Pleasing Play at Methodist Church

The Hamline University Players of St. Paul presented Austin Strong's famous comedy, "Three Wise Fools," at the First Methodist church, Wednesday evening. The college players were greeted with a large and appreciative house which was constantly kept on edge by the rapid action of the play.

The play centers around a young and beautiful girl who has been willing to three old bachelors of doubtful tempers. Miss Evelyn Anderson took the part of the bequeathed girl and Arnold Carlson portrayed Theodore Findely, the cantankerous millionaire bachelor. Clinton Sundberg played Gordon Schuyler, the young dilettante, who, under the influence of his uncle's legacy blossoms into a promising business man.

The Hamline Players is an organization composed of Hamline University students which sponsors a tour of the state every year. Brainerd was the second appearance of the organization this season. From Brainerd the players will go to Atkin and make a complete tour of the Range before returning to St. Paul. Prof. Geo. W. Smith is the company director for this season.

New Way to Quickly Stop Worst Cough

A remarkable new and simple method for treating a cough gives relief with the first doses and usually breaks a severe cough in 24 hours. The treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing. Without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. People have been astonished how quickly the coughing stopped with this new treatment, and the whole cough condition goes in a very short time. The prescription is for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. It is excellent for children as well as grownups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

A CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

IN referring to the annual meeting of the St. Cloud Chamber of Commerce, the St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press voiced in part the activities of this community center.

The Chamber is the one organization that represents all industries and all business in the city. It is a business organization, helping the business of all property owners, getting in new industries, acting as the host to visitors, and in many ways helping St. Cloud.

It is the one organization that is equipped to take charge of opportunities and to concentrate energy when the fates are kind. Without a working Chamber of Commerce St. Cloud would not have secured the federal hospital or the orphanage, and it is extremely doubtful if it would have been favored with the great improvements by the Great Northern railroad. These are achievements for which the Chamber is entitled to great credit.

But there are many things that the Chamber does day by day that attract little attention, but which in the summary are most helpful. Every convention held in St. Cloud has its backing, and it is the fountain of good will, an asset for any municipality, radiating its influence far and wide. It is the towns with the business men well organized, cooperating with each other, that go ahead.

DRESSING UP STORES

WHEN J. L. Culver, sales manager of Butler Brothers, Minneapolis, addressed the 400 retail hardware dealers of the state, in convention assembled at St. Paul, he voiced the necessity of "dressing up" the stores to attain complete success in merchandising.

He claimed hardware stores of the past have not been made attractive enough. It is another curious statement to read that he said 85 per cent of the buyers are women, and that a woman naturally favors the store which offered a greater and more pleasing variety.

Brainerd hardware stores, as a rule, offer attractive displays and do not come under the universal criticism made by Mr. Culver. The local stores have pleasing window displays, they change them frequently. They make efforts to present their stock in attractive form. Coupled with the window displays and inside display of goods, they advertise in newspaper and other mediums.

WOMEN AS SUCCESSORS

WIVES of successful men often have a most thorough grasp of the business of their husbands and the custom is growing to have a wife succeed her husband in business and politics.

For instance, in California, Mrs. Florence Prag Kahn was elected to fill the unexpired term of her late husband, Congressman Julius Kahn. In Stuntz township on the Mesaba range, Mrs. Oscar Aubin was named treasurer to succeed her husband, who was killed in an accident at Superior, Wisconsin.

At Pine River, Mrs. Elmer B. Dahl was appointed postmaster upon the death of her husband, succeeding the latter in the direction of that federal institution.

Women are truly showing their ability and fitness in many branches of business and politics.

MINISTER AS MAYOR

BEMIDJI's plan of electing a minister as mayor, and his subsequent tenure of office will be watched with interest throughout the state. Rev. J. J. Dixon, mayor-elect of the northern city, is rector of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal church. He has more than a theoretic knowledge of humanity, for he is the commanding officer of Bemidji's national guard unit.

ADVERTISING makes familiar the names that are worth knowing in the shopping centers. No man can long continue to advertise an article of little merit. The articles which have become household words are the things which have lived up to their advertised reputations and so gained the confidence of the buying public.

ST. LOUIS BROWNS are certain they have gotten the better of the Brown-Yankee trade by falling heir to Joe Bush. Shocker, on the other hand, cannot be in the pink of physical condition, for he has already had two operations performed on him.

A SNOWPLOW and caterpillar tractor used at Zumbrota to break open roads, did more than that. Short-cutting across the river to save wear on the bridge, the snowplow and tractor broke through the ice and opened up the river.

THAT man or woman is worth while who, without noise or display or hope of reward, is always found fostering those movements which are for the well-being and uplifting of their city, says the Shakopee Argus.

THE North Carolina house of representatives is assuming as much latitude in its subjects for debate as the United States senate. The topic yesterday was "Evolution" and no decision was reached.

IN the opinion of Great Northern passenger agents, there is to be quite an increase in summer tourist travel. Much attention is being centered on the 10,000 lakes of Minnesota.

AN expert survey of the Aitkin schools was made by Dr. Fred Engelhart of the school of education, University of Minnesota. He also took intelligence tests.

MINNEAPOLIS in 1924 spent over a million dollars in park improvements. Maintenance costs came close to $600,000.

THE mumps has shown itself as the only thing fast enough to catch Red Grange, and it has tackled him hard.

SOME men, says the Bemidji Daily Pioneer, are like prunes, for they show old age more after they go dry.

FARMERS URGED TO TEST ALL SEED CORN

Use of the modified rag doll germinator in testing seed corn for the 1925 planting is recommended by farm crops men of University Farm. It is none too early to begin making individual ear tests, they say.

Rock, Carver, and other counties report a surplus of seed corn. Other counties have sufficient stocks to meet home needs. Elsewhere the situation is none too reassuring.

The germination ability of 100 samples of seed corn, tested out recently in the seed laboratory at University Farm, ranged from 0 to 100 per cent, with a large part of the samples testing between 85 to 94 per cent. In normal years seed corn germinating about 95 per cent has been insisted upon. This year there is fear that a lot of seed around 85 per cent will have to be used.

A. H. Larson, who is in charge of the state seed laboratory, says more farmers and seedsmen are having seed of various kinds tested out than ever before. In January nearly 2,000 samples were received in the laboratory as against 600 for the corresponding month in 1924.

Moisture content distinguishes the 1924 crop of seed corn, says Mr. Larson. Ordinarily the seed contains only 12 to 15 per cent of moisture, but this year up to 20 per cent is common. Unless seed corn is carefully dried and handled, it will deteriorate 10 per cent or more before planting time comes, according to Mr. Larson.

BABE WINS PROBATION FOR MOTHER GUILTY OF CHECK FORGERY

St. Paul, Feb. 19.—A 4-months old child which was taken to the county jail with its mother when she was arrested more than two weeks ago on a charge of forgery, today saved the young mother from serving a term in the Shakopee reformatory.

Feb. 5 Mrs. Marie Wagner, 19, and her husband, William Wagner, both were arraigned in district court before Judge James C. Michael, charged with second degree forgery.

Mrs. Wagner pleaded guilty to third degree forgery, while her husband pleaded not guilty and was held for trial. Later, however, the state moved to dismiss the information against him for lack of evidence.

Mrs. Wagner, when questioned by the county attorney, admitted she had cashed a check for $5 Jan. 8 on M. L. Van Buskirk, purchasing a can of white enamel and getting $4.30 in cash.

Today Judge Michael, following a report of the probation officer, sentenced the young mother to Shakopee but stayed execution of sentence for three years and placed her on probation.

Scientists Now Know

Composition of Atom

Fifty years ago, remarks Sir Oliver Lodge, we did not know the atom had a structure; but it has now delivered up its secret, and is found to consist of very minute and concentrated electric charges revolving round a nucleus, as the planets revolve round the sun. The discovery is quite recent that the same system of law and order that reigns through the heavens holds equally in the interior of the atom, so that there is an atomic astronomy growing up before our eyes, leading us to wonder if there is any limit to smallness any more than there is any limit to bigness, says the London Mail.

Among all these immensities man may appear insignificant and hampered by his animal ancestry. He has much to contend against and overcome. Sometimes he seems evil and ugly, but he is immature. He is in the process of making.

If Mozart could hear "The Magic Flute" on a FADA Neutrodyne

—his trained ear would approve the tonal fidelity to the original in his famous old opera. The peculiar charm of this woodwind instrument is caught in all its purity by the famous Fada Neutrodyne. With equal tonal truth, Fada reproduces the deep rolling bass of the pipe-organ.

The Fada Neutrodyne has the range of the 88-key piano-forte. McCormack's pure tenor, Bori's delicious soprano, create the illusion of standing beside the actual artists when you hear them on a Fada set. Bass and baritone voices are reproduced with equal fidelity. Nor does Fada create those raucous distortions that have kept many discriminating folks from investing in radio.

IN referring to the annual meeting of the St. Cloud Chamber of Commerce, the St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press voiced in part the activities of this community center.

The Chamber is the one organization that represents all industries and all business in the city. It is a business organization, helping the business of all property owners, getting in new industries, acting as the host to visitors, and in many ways helping St. Cloud.

It is the one organization that is equipped to take charge of opportunities and to concentrate energy when the fates are kind. Without a working Chamber of Commerce St. Cloud would not have secured the federal hospital or the orphanage, and it is extremely doubtful if it would have been favored with the great improvements by the Great Northern railroad. These are achievements for which the Chamber is entitled to great credit.

But there are many things that the Chamber does day by day that attract little attention, but which in the summary are most helpful. Every convention held in St. Cloud has its backing, and it is the fountain of good will, an asset for any municipality, radiating its influence far and wide. It is the towns with the business men well organized, cooperating with each other, that go ahead.

DRESSING UP STORES

WHEN J. L. Culver, sales manager of Butler Brothers, Minneapolis, addressed the 400 retail hardware dealers of the state, in convention assembled at St. Paul, he voiced the necessity of "dressing up" the stores to attain complete success in merchandising.

He claimed hardware stores of the past have not been made attractive enough. It is another curious statement to read that he said 85 per cent of the buyers are women, and that a woman naturally favors the store which offered a greater and more pleasing variety.

Brainerd hardware stores, as a rule, offer attractive displays and do not come under the universal criticism made by Mr. Culver. The local stores have pleasing window displays, they change them frequently. They make efforts to present their stock in attractive form. Coupled with the window displays and inside display of goods, they advertise in newspaper and other mediums.

WOMEN AS SUCCESSORS

WIVES of successful men often have a most thorough grasp of the business of their husbands and the custom is growing to have a wife succeed her husband in business and politics.

For instance, in California, Mrs. Florence Prag Kahn was elected to fill the unexpired term of her late husband, Congressman Julius Kahn. In Stuntz township on the Mesaba range, Mrs. Oscar Aubin was named treasurer to succeed her husband, who was killed in an accident at Superior, Wisconsin.

At Pine River, Mrs. Elmer B. Dahl was appointed postmaster upon the death of her husband, succeeding the latter in the direction of that federal institution.

Women are truly showing their ability and fitness in many branches of business and politics.

MINISTER AS MAYOR

BEMIDJI's plan of electing a minister as mayor, and his subsequent tenure of office will be watched with interest throughout the state. Rev. J. J. Dixon, mayor-elect of the northern city, is rector of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal church. He has more than a theoretic knowledge of humanity, for he is the commanding officer of Bemidji's national guard unit.

ADVERTISING makes familiar the names that are worth knowing in the shopping centers. No man can long continue to advertise an article of little merit. The articles which have become household words are the things which have lived up to their advertised reputations and so gained the confidence of the buying public.

ST. LOUIS BROWNS are certain they have gotten the better of the Brown-Yankee trade by falling heir to Joe Bush. Shocker, on the other hand, cannot be in the pink of physical condition, for he has already had two operations performed on him.

FARM CLUB WORK MADE INTERESTING

Carrie M. Taylor Write the Dispatch Showing What Deerwood-Irondale Club Does

CHILDREN ASSISTING TOO

Boys and Girls Are the Future Farmers and Farm Life Should be Made Attractive

The Dispatch is very glad to give publicity to this letter from Carrie
M. Taylor of Deerwood:

Deerwood, Minn.
Feb. 17, 1925

Braierd Dispatch
Dear Sirs:

I am sending you a copy of the program for our Farmers Club meeting this coming Saturday, Feb. 21st.
I notice, that from time to time, you print articles concerning the Farm Club meetings throughout the country, so I thought perhaps you would like to hear about our club.

We adopted the plan of meeting on Saturday so that our children can attend our meetings. We plan each time to have a part of our meeting set apart for the children, and they also speak pieces for us. We aim to select pieces pertaining to farming or to farm life. I am sure we all do realize that our boys and girls on the farm are our future farmers, if we can only do something to hold and centre their interests upon the farm, and what it holds in store for them.

Mr. Roth's idea of establishing boys and girls clubs—and getting our boys and girls interested in raising some chickens, or a calf or pig, or perhaps a colt, all for their very own, is surely a splendid way to make them feel that upon a farm is a fine place to live. I wonder how many of our boys and girls are going to compete in raising alfalfa this next summer. Or perhaps a garden or a patch of potatoes.

We need more farmers' clubs throughout the county. There should be a farm club in every township.
The director and secretary of each club should have enough 'backbone' or 'push' to keep the 'club' in motion. Have a program committee that will rustle around and get up a good program—and then when you are called upon to make a speech, get up and say something. Don't hesitate to call upon your bankers and merchants, or any other man of business, that you think might have something to say that you would like to listen to.

We have had Miss Ingebritson, our County Nurse, attend our meetings.
One time she gave a demonstration, and a very interesting and instructive talk about her work.

Mr. Innes, our egg and poultry association manager, is very anxious to meet the farmers and tell them all the advantages of sending their poultry and eggs to the association centre at Aitkin.

Mr. Roth likes to hold culling demonstrations, and show and tell you how to cull your poultry.

Most every body likes good things to eat, so have a big farmers dinner, with lots of pie for trimmings.

And last, but not least, come to the meetings, one and all, and take part. Do your bit.

A printed leaflet like the following, informs members of the next meeting and what is in store for them:

Deerwood-Irondale Farmers' Club
The next meeting of the Farmers' Club will take place on Feb. 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eng-man.

Mr. Peele of the Crosby-Ironton high school will talk to our boys and girls on agriculture.

Ten minute talks will be given by different members called upon by Mr. Butler.

Mr. Wanvig and Mr. Butler attended the poultry meeting in Aitkin on Tuesday. We shall expect to hear from them.

Come prepared with a question to put into our question box.

Mr. Wanvig will talk to us on Taxes and Good Roads.

Mr. VanEvara will talk on establishing a local egg market for disposing of our eggs.

Some good recitations will be given by some of the children.

Don't forget the "Feed" at noon time. Mashed potatoes, sauer kraut and everything else good to go with it.

Visitors are always welcome.
If you want the Minnesota Institute Annual No. 36, on "Selection, Feeding and Management of the Dairy Cow" ask

Your Secretary,
CARL E. CARLSON.

Time to Go

Owen owed Rogers $20. Owen had successfully avoided meeting Rogers until now he had run full tilt into him.
It was quite unavoidable, otherwise the meeting would never have taken place. Trust Owen for that!

They chatted for some minutes on a variety of subjects, and at last Owen, wishing to get away before the subject of the debt was raised, said:

"What's the time, old man?"
Rogers pulled out his watch and, regarding it with a frown, replied:
"Well, it's about time that you repaid that money."

"Oh," exclaimed Owen in alarm, "I had no idea that it was as late as that. I must be off. Good-by, old man!"

CUT IN AUTO RATES MAY INCREASE TAX

RESTORATION OF PERSONAL TAX THREATENS IF FURTHER DECREASE IS MADE

Further reduction of Minnesota motor vehicle taxes, which are now lower than those on other personal property, may put cars and trucks back on personal property rolls to be so taxed in addition to the state license fee, according to a recent newspaper interview given by E. T. Winship of Owatonna.

Mr. Winship spoke as a private citizen and good roads advocate, although he is president of the Minnesota Automobile association, the Holstein cattle breeders' association and other state organizations.

"The intent in taking the personal taxes off motor vehicles was that automobiles and trucks should be taxed more than other personal property to furnish good roads funds. The constitution provides that the present state tax shall be the only tax on the machines only as long as it is higher than a personal property tax would be. It is now lower and if further reduced, even with a gasoline tax, it may cost the car owners exemption from a personal tax."

Mr. Winship insisted that any safe reduction must be confined to the gas tax and expressed doubt if that would mean any gain to owners in view of the highway improvements needed to bring down car running expenses.

TO HARNESS THE SHANNON RIVER

(By United Press)
Washington, Feb. 18.—Development of electric power from the famous River Shannon in Ireland by a German hydro-electric contractor is expected to be started shortly as a result of approval of the proposal by the board of experts, according to advice reaching the Department of Commerce.

The project contemplates distribution of current over the entire country. Ultimate production of 400,000,000 units (k.w.h.) of current is contemplated through gradual development and linking up of the principal rivers in the Free State as consumption of current increases. The Shannon, which is expected to supply 275,000,000 units when fully utilized, has been selected as the most suitable possibility for the initial development.

The first step in the program will be the erection, three miles north of Limerick of a generating station of 63,000 installed kilowatt capacity with an output of 150,000,000 units, or about three times the present consumption of the Free State. Transmission from this station is to be made by 100,000 volt lines to Dublin and Cork, and 30,000 and 10,000 volt lines to other consuming centers. The latter will include towns of 500 or more population. The towns of Loughs Deny, Allen and Rea are to be utilized as storage reservoirs.

The proposed plan also contemplates improving the navigability of the Shannon by construction of a canal six and one-half miles long and 100 feet wide. In addition, an area of 11,000 acres, now subject to flooding, will be drained, and extensive embankments will be constructed along the river.

The cost of the initial development is estimated at 5,200,000 pounds, and the cost of the full development later at 7,870,000 pounds.

The engineers have figured that the initial undertaking will become a paying proposition at the end of five years.

A demand for 150,000,000 units is anticipated in two or three years, and, in the opinion of the experts, the consumption at the end of 20 years, with the Shannon and other streams fully developed, may reach 400,000,000 units.

SANDLOT BASEBALL IS CROWDED OUT BY CITY BUILDINGS

(By United Press)
Chicago, Feb. 19.—The national institution known as sandlot baseball is on the downgrade here. What was once the commonest outdoor sport, this year promises to be the most exclusive. Sandlot ball is being choked off.

The gigantic post-war building boom in Chicago has been killing the favorite pastime of other days. For the sandlotters now have scarcely any place to play within the city proper.

With the first promise of spring and dry weather the crisis in corner ball lots has become acute. So rapidly has Chicago built up and filled in the open spaces in the last six years that vacant lots are at a premium with sandlot pastimers.

The Cook County Real Estate Board estimates at least 5,000 one-time sandlot diamonds are now office buildings, factories or residences. This figure includes half a dozen semi-pro ball parks equipped with stands and bleachers.

The most available ball diamonds in the city now are in the outlying sections, several miles from Chicago's crowded residential district, and in the city's system of parks. Park diamonds are always overtaxed, and the suburbs are too far away.

While baseball continues the most popular sport for the masses, there has been a steady swing to golf. But a dearth of golf links exists, there being not more than ten public courses within city limits. With the middle and upper classes, golf has passed baseball in popularity and it does not seem likely that baseball will ever again recapture its former position. That sandlot baseball has about run its course, all agree.

One of our doubtless reliable statisticians informs us that there are now 526,000,000 Christians in the world, and we have our moments of depression when we wonder where they live.—Columbus, Ohio, State Journal.

I. C. C. ACTION ON COAST LINE MAY LEAD TO CHANGE HERE

St. Paul, Feb. 19.—Pooling of the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Oregon-Washington lines running from Seattle and Tacoma to Portland has been authorized by the interstate commerce commission.

Announcement of this decision of the commission on the application of the railroads in question has been received in St. Paul.

It generally is considered another step in consolidation and efficient operation of the three systems. The Oregon-Washington railway is owned by the two Northerns.

That this pooling of the three railroads may have a bearing on the lines running from St. Paul to Duluth is the unofficial opinion in local railroad circles.

Although the situations are not analogous, it was explained that some of the night passengers and nonstop freight trains may be consolidated.

The route from Seattle to Portland is over the same line, while the railroads running to Duluth serve different territories. This would make practically impossible the pooling of all the railroads, it was explained.

This consolidation was asked for and granted on the grounds that it will make one train do the work of three.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY IS GREAT SUCCESS

"Daddy Long Legs" Charms Large Audience First Night at
New Park

PLAY REPEATED TONIGHT

Will be Presented Tonight at the
High School Auditorium

The Senior class play "Daddy Long Legs" was last night an unqualified success, as evidenced by the tense attention of the audience that no word might be lost, and the spontaneous chuckling that went from front to rear and rippled back again.

There were so many laughs to the act, blended with enough seriousness that the play was truly worth while, beginning with the pathetic, down-trodden orphans, and ending with the triumphant happiness of the hero and heroine.

The acting of the leading characters was so uniformly good that it was obvious why they were chosen. Elizabeth Folsom acted Judy Abbott with a charm and vivacity which convinced every one that she was entitled to all the happiness that had been denied her eighteen years in the orphan asylum, a blossoming out from oppression and blue gingham to happiness and pretty clothes.

The role of Jervis Pendleton, which was especially hard for young people, was admirably done by Wallace Anderson, who carried it out with a dignity and quiet that showed great reserve strength. The role was so mature and serious that he deserves especial mention. In the exceedingly difficult proposal scene where a false intonation might easily have destroyed the illusion of the drama, he carried his audience with him to the end, and his sorrow was theirs.

Outside of the leads, many others deserve mention for their consistently good work, from the thoroughly efficient Mrs. Lippett—Alice Larson—to the snobbish Mrs. and Miss Pendleton—Margaret Anderson and Alfreda Zawadzki.

Dorothy Quinlen, as Julia Pendleton, and Iris Wolvert as Sallie McBride, were typical college girls, and received much applause both from their clever lines and their skillful handling of those lines. Dust in tea cups, and stolen buns were nothing to them.

Wendell Burns, as Jimmie McBride from Yale, was very effective, from his ability to shoot woodchucks and make love to his skill growing a mustache.

Delphine Winter as Miss Pritchard was thoroughly the sympathetic and kindly friend and to her was due the happy outcome of the play.

Sophie Brending as Mrs. Semple, nurse of Jervis Pendleton when a child, was a charming, sweet, gray haired, little lady.

The other characters demonstrated that a few lines were as good a vehicle for demonstrating dramatic ability as a heavy part. Orphans and trustees and butlers and secretaries, though short in lines, were long in ability. What they had to say was done with true dramatic effect. Further details will appear in The Brainerdian next Tuesday.

Play Repeated Tonight at High School

The cast puts the play on again tonight at the high school. The school has purchased new bleachers that have places for feet, so all those who come down tonight will find the two hours comfortable.

The specialties which were unusually good, will be repeated tonight. If any one has heard of the O. P. R. A. quartet, he will surely want to see them in action. This comic quartet includes Mardelle Winter, soprano; Sylvia Foster, alto; George Weisz, tenor; Wendell Burns bass and manager; with the accompaniments played by Lorraine Morrison.

The special girls' chorus was attracted like gypsies and sang a "Gypsy Love Song" by Victor Herbert. This girls in this chorus are Margaret Anderson, Margaret Bouma, Irma Clause, Bernice Samuelsen, Violet Stanley, Helen Templeton, Marguerite O'Brien, Dana Peterson, Eva Hanski, Mildred Butka, Kathleen Early, Elvia Benson, Ethel Emilson, Mardell Mraz, Olga Tangan, Helen Paine.

The boys' glee club sang two fine selections, their accompaniments being played by Lorraine Morrison. The glee club is composed of George Weisz, Wm. Johnstone, James Koop, Gerald Schrader, Joseph Greener, Leslie Moody, George Hegstad, Everett Moody, Winel Barner, Kent Whitlock, Winston Van Walk, Ernest Lively, Francis George, Clifford Gustafson, Guerdon Babcock.

Russell Putz and Clayton Larson.

The orchestra numbers were exceptionally good, these and the choruses and quartet being coached by Miss Rickard, supervisor of music.

The orchestra's repertoire included "United Liberty March" by Losey; "Fair Maid of Perth" overture by Widdell; "The Trumpeter" polka by Englemann; "Cup Winner" march by Tocoben; "Mignonette Overture" by Baumann; "Over the Waves" waltz by Rosas; selection from Wm. Tell of Rossini; "The First Smile" by Largey.

The orchestration is as follows:

Violins—Emma Jean Clarkson, Zita Miller, Lorraine Morrison, Katherine Nolan, Jennie McCarthy, Marion Romain, Sophie Brending, Stewart Giles, Carl Peterson, Maurice Borkon

Cornet—Dale Saunders.

First Clarinet—Elmer Peterson.

Second Clarinet—Julius Peterson.

Saxophones—Roland Jenkins, Arden Miller.

Piccolo—Guy Hawkins.

Flute—Mr. Schaumberg.

French Horn—Guy Hall.

Tuba—Ray Remmels.

Trombone—Leland Avery.

Drums—John Ellison.

Piano—Ray Nickelson.

Prices, Tonight

The only thing missing tonight will be scenery. The acting and all will be there, and from past experience, the second night is better than the first.

Prices tonight are 35 and 25 cents. As some of the actors play at Aitkin tomorrow, the high school would like to begin no later than 8 o'clock sharp.

Miss Tornstrom, as usual, won highest praise for her ability as producer of a play in such excellent manner.

Thomas L. Larkin is the efficient business manager of the play.

Many thanks are due those who so kindly gave of their time and possessions to make the play a success. Especially do the class wish to express their gratitude to these: Fitzsimmons & Sons, O'Brien Mercantile Co., Mrs. Kracher, Miss Scallon, John M. Bye Clothing Co., and the Patz Furniture Co.

The first three days' clinic will be held at the court house in Brainerd, and the last two days in Crosby, probably at the armory.

The organizations sponsoring this clinic include the Crow Wing county child welfare board, the Red Cross, and the Brainerd and Crosby-Ironton schools through their school nurses. Those who will take an active part in the clinic are Miss Rebecca Cassell, executive secretary, child welfare board, Miss Thora Ingelbritson, Red Cross nurse, Miss Eula Michael, local school nurse, and Miss Julia Sharp, school nurse at Crosby-Ironton.

The purpose of this clinic is to help parents who have normal, problem children. These are such children as stammerers, those inclined to exaggerate, those with kleptomania, and others who are proving to be a problem to their parents.

This is a traveling clinic sent out by the state department, and it is felt that this county is very fortunate in securing it for a five-day period.

So thoroughly is the work done in the clinic, that it will only be possible to take care of nine or ten cases during the stay in Brainerd, and about five or six cases in Crosby. But it is probable that if enough interest is shown in the work and the demand is sufficient, a similar clinic will be conducted at a later date.

Those parents who feel that they would welcome the assistance from this clinic are asked to get in touch with those in charge at an early date. Further announcement will be made in the Dispatch later.

The change in dress styles from the extreme straight lines to the more trimmed styles has caused a great new interest in dresses.

True they are, for the most part, straight lines styles, but there is a vast difference in the manner in which they are made; the flare at the bottom; an occasional full skirt; the "apron" which gives such a novel effect and other similar features. Then, the colors are so different and withall so spring like. Think of wearing such shades as gingersnap, Arab, rust, brick, titchen, copper, lipstick, agate, chile and wigwam in addition to other usual spring shades.

These beautiful styles and new shades has caused a new interest in dresses and styles and many women are buying them. We are receiving new ones daily which will interest you and the prices will be just as pleasing.

BIRD HOUSES CONSTRUCTION

Contest of Month Duration Staged

Scouts

BEGINS MONDAY, FEBRUARY 23

Bird Houses to be Built Under One of Nine Classifications

Scoutmasters of Boy Scout troops throughout the county have been notified that beginning February 23rd, and continuing over a period of one month, a bird house construction contest will be conducted, in which it is hoped to interest all local Scouts.

These bird houses are to be built under one of the following classifications, which may be selected by the Scout himself: 1. Nest log; 2. Bluebird houses, cans or gourds; 3. Nest shelf or shelter; 4. Swallow or bluebird house; 5. Woodpecker or nuthatch house; 6. Martin house; 7. Log cabin for small birds, wrens, bluebirds, etc.; 8. Food shelter; 9. Bird baths.

All houses must be completed and assembled at a place to be designated later, before six o'clock on the evening of the closing day of the contest, March 24th.

Awards are to be made for the best work in each district, and are as follows: First award, one boys' Manual, cloth bound; second award, one signal flag kit and flags; third award, one troop neckerchief, color to be selected by the boys.

An effort will be made to sell the houses for contestants, and it is thought that there will be a good market for all. The maker of the house should label it with his name, district and troop.

Much excellent work has been done in this line in the past, and the Scouts will make an attempt to far exceed any similar achievements of this nature in the coming contest. The designs of the houses are limited only by the boys' originality, and it is expected that some excellent specimens will be shown.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY IS GREAT SUCCESS

"Daddy Long Legs" Charms Large
Audience First Night at
New Park

PLAY REPEATED TONIGHT

Will be Presented Tonight at the
High School Auditorium

The Senior class play "Daddy Long Legs," was last night an unqualified success, as evidenced by the tense attention of the audience that no word might be lost, and the spontaneous chuckling that went from front to rear and rippled back again.

There were so many laughs to the act, blended with enough seriousness that the play was truly worth while, beginning with the pathetic, down-trodden orphans, and ending with the triumphant happiness of the hero and heroine.

The acting of the leading characters was so uniformly good that it was obvious why they were chosen. Elizabeth Folsom acted Judy Abbott with a charm and vivacity which convinced every one that she was entitled to all the happiness that had been denied her eighteen years in the orphan asylum, a blossoming out from oppression and blue gingham to happiness and pretty clothes.

The role of Jervis Pendleton, which was especially hard for young people, was admirably done by Wallace Anderson, who carried it out with a dignity and quiet that showed great reserve strength. The role was so mature and serious that he deserves especial mention. In the exceedingly difficult proposal scene where a false intonation might easily have destroyed the illusion of the drama, he carried his audience with him to the end, and his sorrow was theirs.

Outside of the leads, many others deserve mention for their consistently good work, from the thoroughly efficient Mrs. Lippett—Alice Larson—to the snobbish Mrs. and Miss Pendleton—Margaret Anderson and Alfreda Zawadski.

Dorothy Quinen, as Julia Pendleton, and Iris Wolvert as Sallie McBride, were typical college girls, and received much applause both from their clever lines and their skillful handling of those lines. Dust in tea cups, and stolen buns were nothing to them.

Wendel Burns, as Jimmie McBride from Yale, was very effective, from his ability to shoot woodchucks and make love to his skill growing a mustache.

Delphine Winter as Miss Pritchard was thoroughly the sympathetic and kindly friend and to her was due the happy outcome of the play.

Sophie Brending as Mrs. Semple, nurse of Jervis Pendleton when a child, was a charming, sweet, gray haired, little lady.

The other characters demonstrated that a few lines were as good a vehicle for demonstrating dramatic ability as a heavy part. Orphans and trustees and butlers and secretaries, though short in lines, were long in ability. What they had to say was done with true dramatic effect. Further details will appear in The Brainerdian next Tuesday.

Play Repeated Tonight at High School

The cast puts the play on again tonight at the high school. The school has purchased new bleachers that have places for feet, so all those who come down tonight will find the two hours comfortable.

The specialties which were unusually good will be repeated tonight. If any one has heard of the P. R. A. quartet, he will surely want to see them in action. This comic quartet includes Mardelle Winter, soprano; Sylvia Foster, alto; George Weisz, tenor; Wendell Burns bass and manager; with the accompaniments played by Lorraine Morrison.

The special girls' chorus was attracted like gypsies and sang a "Gypsy Love Song" by Victor Herbert. This girls in this chorus are Margaret Anderson, Margaret Bouma, Irma Clause, Bernice Samuelson, Violet Stanley, Helen Templeton, Marguerite O'Brien, Dana Peterson, Eva Hanski, Mildred Butka, Kathleen Early, Elvia Benson, Ethel Emilson, Mardell Mraz, Olga Tangan, Helen Paine.

The boys' glee club sang two fine selections, their accompaniments being played by Lorraine Morrison. The glee club is composed of George Weisz, Wm. Johnstone, James Koop, Gerald Schrader, Joseph Greener, Leslie Moody, George Hegstad, Everett Moody, Winifred Barner, Kent Whitlock, Winston Van Walk, Ernest Lively, Francis George, Clifford Gustafson, Guerdon Babcock.

Russell Putz and Clayton Larson. The orchestra numbers were exceptionally good, these and the choruses and quartet being coached by Miss Rickard, supervisor of music.

The orchestra's repertoire included "United Liberty March" by Losey; "Fair Maid of Perth" overture by Widdell; "The Trumpeter" polka by Englemann; "Cup Winner" march by Tocoben; "Mignonette Overture" by Baumann; "Over the Waves" waltz by Rosas; selection from Wm. Tell of Rossini; "The First Smile" by Larye.

The orchestration is as follows:
Violins—Emma Jean Clarkson, Zita Miller, Lorraine Morrison, Katherine Nolan, Jennie McCarthy, Marion Romain, Sophie Brending, Stewart Giles, Carl Peterson, Maurice Borkon
Cornet—Dale Saunders
First Clarinet—Elmer Peterson.
Second Clarinet—Julius Peterson.
Saxophones—Roland Jenkins, Arden Miller.
Piccolo—Guy Hawkins.
Flute—Mr. Schaumberg.
French Horn—Guy Hall.
Tuba—Ray Remmels.
Trombone—Leland Avery.
Drums—John Ellison.
Piano—Ray Nickelson.

Prices Tonight

The only thing missing tonight will be scenery. The acting and all will be there, and from past experience, the second night is better than the first.

Prices tonight are 35 and 25 cents. As some of the actors play at Aitkin tomorrow, the high school would like to begin no later than 8 o'clock sharp.

Miss Tornstrom, as usual, won highest praise for her ability as producer of a play in such excellent manner.

Thomas L. Larkin is the efficient business manager of the play. Many thanks are due those who so kindly gave of their time and possessions to make the play a success. Especially do the class wish to express their gratitude to these: Fitzsimmons & Sons, O'Brien Mercantile Co., Mrs. Kracher, Miss Scallon, John M. Bye Clothing Co., and the Pat's Furniture Co.

TILDEN WINS VICTORY IN TENNIS FIGHT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 19.—Bill Tilden's influence in the inner political circles of the United States Lawn Tennis Association is being felt more and more. The champion has been involved in several major controversies with the faction that is now in control of the association, but it was not until the recent annual meeting of the association that he carried his fight to the floor for an open battle. And he won every issue in which he was involved.

His principal victory was scored in the passage of a resolution instructing the Davis Cup committee to announce at least 21 days in advance the names of the players who are to represent the United States and how they are to play.

Julian S. Myrick, former president of the association and the real leader of tennis in this country, is now the chairman of the Davis Cup Committee. He intimated in answering Tilden that his committee was well qualified to manage the Davis Cup competition without any outside help.

Tilden argued that several disagreeable episodes occurred in the last two years because the players didn't know who were to be paired in the doubles until it was too late for real practice.

He intimated that the Davis Cup committee was a little bit too chesty and he reminded that it "is the boys out there on the court that are responsible for the cup and not the committee and that the players were entitled to more consideration than they have been getting."

When it went to a vote, Tilden won and the committee was instructed to give the players at least three weeks notice.

Tilden also took a major part in fighting to change the national ranking list which was published some time ago. Consider that Dick Williams and Watson Washburn, the only prominent players who have taken an active part in the politics of the game, were on the other side, it was a good chance for Tilden to fight and he did.

As a result, the association refused to approve the ranking list and substituted another one in which Washburn was not included in the first ten players. Washburn is a relative of Myrick and other players have always complained that he got too many favors from the association for a player of ordinary ability.

A Novel Setting

The exotic beauty of the Everglades of Florida is used as a background for Betty Compson's picture, "Ramshackle House," which comes to the Lyceum Theatre next Sunday one day only, matinee and night.

The cast is an unusually strong one, including John Davidson who scored a distinct personal hit as the villain in support of Rudolph Valentino in "Monsieur Beaucaire," Robert Lowing, William Black, Henry James, and others of equal note.

LINDSTROM'S THRILL

A THREE-FOLD ONE

YOUNG GIANT STAR TELLS OF HIS GREATEST EXPERIENCE

New York, Feb. 19.—Manager John McGraw of the New York Nationals has announced that Freddie Lindstrom will start at third base for the Giants this spring.

This means that McGraw has practically decided to supplant the veteran Groh with the younger Lindstrom.

No doubt McGraw fears that Groh's leg injury will slow up his general play. In the world series Lindstrom showed remarkable ability for an untried youngster and seems destined to be a star.

It is a cinch that Groh will not go down without colors flying, so Lindstrom can expect real competition from the veteran.

Recently when asked for his greatest thrill, Lindstrom said that although he had been in the majors only a year, he already had three.

The first was when he looked over a man's shoulders in a Toledo street car and saw big headlines saying he had been sold to the Giants. He had no intimation that such a deal was under way.

His second thrill came when Groh's injury necessitated that he be played at third base in the big series.

The third and greatest was the making of four hits in one world series game off so great a pitcher and popular idol as Walter Johnson.

TILDEN WINS VICTORY IN TENNIS FIGHT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 19.—Bill Tilden's influence in the inner political circles of the United States Lawn Tennis Association is being felt more and more. The champion has been involved in several major controversies with the faction that is now in control of the association, but it was not until the recent annual meeting of the association that he carried his fight to the floor for an open battle. And he won every issue in which he was involved.

His principal victory was scored in the passage of a resolution instructing the Davis Cup committee to announce at least 21 days in advance the names of the players who are to represent the United States and how they are to play.

Julian S. Myrick, former president of the association and the real leader of tennis in this country, is now the chairman of the Davis Cup Committee. He intimated in answering Tilden that his committee was well qualified to manage the Davis Cup competition without any outside help.

Tilden argued that several disagreeable episodes occurred in the last two years because the players didn't know who were to be paired in the doubles until it was too late for real practice.

He intimated that the Davis Cup committee was a little bit too chesty and he reminded that it "is the boys out there on the court that are responsible for the cup and not the committee and that the players were entitled to more consideration than they have been getting."

When it went to a vote, Tilden won and the committee was instructed to give the players at least three weeks notice.

Tilden also took a major part in fighting to change the national ranking list which was published some time ago. Consider that Dick Williams and Watson Washburn the only prominent players who have taken an active part in the politics of the game, were on the other side, it was a good chance for Tilden to fight and he did.

As a result, the association refused to approve the ranking list and substituted another one in which Washburn was not included in the first ten players. Washburn is a relative of Myrick and other players have always complained that he got too many favors from the association for a player of ordinary ability.

A Novel Setting

The exotic beauty of the Everglades of Florida is used as a background for Betty Compson's picture, "Ramshackle House," which comes to the Lyceum Theatre next Sunday one day only, matinee and night.

The cast is an unusually strong one, including John Davidson who scored a distinct personal hit as the villain in support of Rudolph Valentino in "Monsieur Beaucaire," Robert Lowing, William Black, Henry James, and others of equal note.

LINDSTROM'S THRILL
A THREE-FOLD ONE

YOUNG GIANT STAR TELLS OF HIS GREATEST EXPERIENCE

New York, Feb. 19.—Manager John McGraw of the New York Nationals has announced that Freddie Lindstrom will start at third base for the Giants this spring.

This means that McGraw has practically decided to supplant the veteran Groh with the younger Lindstrom.

No doubt McGraw fears that Groh's leg injury will slow up his general play. In the world series Lindstrom showed remarkable ability for an untried youngster and seems destined to be a star.

It is a cinch that Groh will not go down without colors flying, so Lindstrom can expect real competition from the veteran.

Recently when asked for his greatest thrill, Lindstrom said that although he had been in the majors only a year, he already had three.

The first was when he looked over a man's shoulders in a Toledo streetcar and saw big headlines saying he had been sold to the Giants. He had no intimation that such a deal was under way.

His second thrill came when Groh's injury necessitated that he be played at third base in the big series.

The third and greatest was the making of four hits in one world series game off so great a pitcher and popular idol as Walter Johnson.
